

Now licensed in California
For immediate release
April 20, 2009 Amherst NY

Intensive Energy is pleased to announce that Kevin B. Albaugh is now licensed as a Professional Chemical Engineer in the State of California.

According to Dr. Albaugh, “we are pleased to be able to serve the vibrant high-technology industry within California”

Intensive Energy^(SM) helps you evaluate and incorporate advanced technology, particularly in energy intensive industries such as industrial gases, semiconductor processing, and other chemicals and materials processing industries. Our goal is to create value at the intersection between technology and your business.

For further information email info@intensiveenergy.com.